

The Olive Branch

1949

To The Class of '49

As you join the ranks of the N. C. graduates, of the past three score and six years, may you do so with genuine pride.

Pride in your personal school accomplishments; in the spirit of your school; in the encouragement of your parents; in that you are ready to prove to your community, that you are beginning to assume the duties of a worthy citizen.

This yearbook, in depicting a cross section of the work and play of your school, will always be a reminder of your days spent in old N. C. It will remind you of the seemingly hard tasks, but which will be easy in comparison to some you will take up later. It will remind you of the good times together, of your serious thoughts, and of the pranks you played.

It should also remind you, that interest in you, was the basis of your teachers efforts, their scoldings and their praisings. Make them ever proud of you as you progress through life.

Membership on the Olive Branch Staff is a distinct honor and is given to those members of the senior class who are especially interested in publishing a yearbook. Publication of the Olive Branch is entirely an extra-curricular activity, but it offers students practical experience in creative writing, thinking, and business managing.

Publication of the Olive Branch involves a great expense.

Funds to make this annual possible was raised by the donations of the New Carlisle Boosters, the sale of books to students, friends, teachers, and by a generous contribution of the senior class.

Much credit is due to Mrs. Troeger, faculty-adviser, and Jane Szmanda, Henrietta Wrobleski, and Virginia Nickerson, the editor, assistant editor, and business manager respectively, for their services in successfully organizing the contents of this 1949 Olive Branch.

FOREWORD

We, the staff of the 1949 Olive Branch of New Carlisle High School, wish to portray, within these covers, a cross section of the school life during this, our last year in our faithful institution.

We have tried to picture all the persons connected with the school. We did not omit any one intentionally.

Our thanks goes to the Boosters and all who have assisted in any way.

IN MEMORY OF

Carl Shel and Andrew DeGroote, two former members of our class, who met with fatal accidents early in their high school years.

DOROTHY WROBLESKI

The pretty new secretary in Mr. Carr's office has attracted many of the students on her cheerful disposition since she came here last year.

She graduated in the class of "48" from N.C.H.S.

Thelma Fetterer Jane Ann Luzadder
Henrietta Wroblewski Pat Schnieder

Jean Szmanda Marilyn Stockton

Barbara Michalski Elizabeth Kulwicki

Thelma Agness
Sixth grade

Mrs. Agness, the able teacher of the sixth grade, helps her students with the problems which they will encounter in high school.

Dorothy Biro

Grade music, English, Ninth grade sponsor
Under Miss Biro's capable baton, her Chorus turns out many fine programs, especially at Christmas time. She teaches ninth grade students the whys and wherefores of English.

Margaret Broadhurst
Phy. Ed., Typing, Health, Eleventh grade sponsor

The familiar figure of our instructor for girls' gym classes is seen everywhere at N.C.H.S. Miss Broadhurst wanted to be a teacher of commerce only, but she helps the young girls keep fit through gym work.

Mabel Bunton
Fourth Grade

Everybody is well acquainted with Miss Bunton, the collector of lost and found articles. Her friendly advice and colorful way of presenting lessons mark her as a favorite of all.

Webster R. Carr

Principal, English, and arithmetic
Mr. Carr, the man with the friendly smile, not only directs the school but also teaches English and arithmetic.

Ruth Crouch

Mathematics, geography, tenth grade sponsor
Mrs. Crouch is the person who, by able teachings turns out good mathematicians.

H. C. Davis

Drawing, shop

From Mr. Davis's drawing and shop classes students produce mechanical and drawing creations and learn ways of the finer points of shop work.

Margaret Ekstrom

Home Economics, ninth grade sponsor
Being ready with good service and a friendly smile, Mrs. Ekstrom trains our girls to give an expert touch to all kinds of dishes that tempt our appetites. She also teaches clothing.

Leon Greenwalt

Biology, ninth grade sponsor, science
The friendly proprietor of our "Bugs and Beetles" lab and classroom is definitely a favorite with all his students.

Martha Holaday
Second grade

Students are ably guided into the mysteries of "readin', writin', and 'rithmetic" by this talented teacher.

A. W. Ingli

Agriculture, science, eight grade sponsor

Students taking agriculture thoroughly enjoy it under the guidance of Mr. Ingli. He sponsored the Fall Fair.

(Picture not taken)

Blanche Luther

Fifth grade

Mrs. Luther is another teacher who starts the children off with a good sound foundation in all phases of school life. She is helpful, and a friend to everybody.

Mildred McKesson

Latin, Journalism, English, eighth grade sponsor

Again this year, Miss McKesson, succeeded admirably in teaching students the fundamentals and finer points of English and Latin. She is found running back and forth between the typing room and room 24 attending to her duties as sponsor of the Tattler.

Darle Pfeiffer

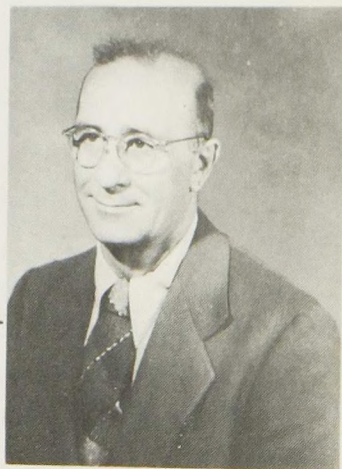

Mathematics, physics, eleventh grade sponsor

Students and faculty were happy when this renowned mathematics and physics "Prof" came back to N. C. H. S. Known for his witty and shy smile, his ambition was to own a Buick. He has one too.

O. A. Shaw

Shorthand, typing, office practice, Student Council Advisor

Any day, one can see the girls in room 2 working busily on their shorthand under Mr. Shaw's watchful eye. He's the teacher who turns out our speedy "Shorthanded" girls.

Harry Stoneburner

Phy. Ed., history, health, tenth grade sponsor

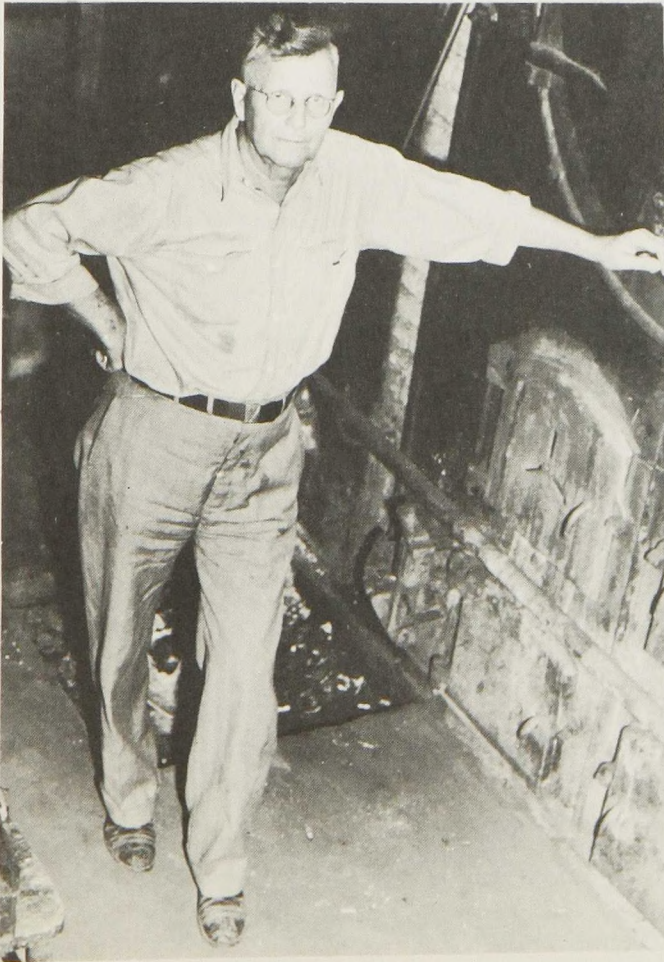

Who is this Romeo who has invaded our school and set the girls to swooning and the boys to work? It's none other than our new coach and gym teacher, Mr. Stoneburner.

FRESHMEN

As usual, the school year commenced with the chattering of some 70 light-hearted Freshmen. Their dim outlook was brightened by the friendliness and cooperation of their teachers and upper classmen.

Various activities drew them into school life, such as: joining clubs, going to parties, participating in the carnival, the fair, and trying for the merit and honor rolls. Everybody enjoyed the Freshmen party because they became acquainted and had a good time.

Many new things are learned by the freshman all through their high school careers. Not only facts relating to knowledge, but also in social etiquette as is shown in the Charmettes Club.

In home rooms, Mr. Greenwalt and Mrs. Ekstrom guided them along right paths.

These students have completed the first and hardest year of school life, and now they have three glorious years ahead of them.

SOPHOMORE

The sophomore class was once much larger but several have fallen by the way side. Too bad! however we foretell a bright future for them.

Scholastically their honor roll percentage is high. Socially their participation in extra curricular activities renders them as indispensable assets to the various clubs. The class has several members in the chorus and band.

The Sadie Hawkins Dance was a highlight of the year. The students planned the party, and those who didn't have a good time did not attend.

The home rooms have been active as is shown by the Glamor Manner Club that teaches the girls to recognize and subdue their weak points and develops and bring the good points into the limelight.

Girls and boys alike have participated in sports.

Mr. Stoneburner and Mrs. Crouch deserve much credit for the All American attitude of this class.

THERE GO THOSE BUSY JUNIORS AGAIN!

Who were the busiest people in New Carlisle School this year? Ten to one they were we juniors, trying to keep ahead of all our activities.

We started the year off with our class play called "Professor, How Could You?" and it was really a success. Following our play came our magazine sale, in which we sold over $900 worth of magazines. Bill Flatt was our high salesman with $124. Next it was time for recuperation and recreation; so we had a party and forgot all our troubles one night at the conservation club. With our sponsors Miss Broadhurst and Mr. Pfeiffer we had a wonderful time.

The next big thing for the juniors was the arrival of our class rings and were they beauties!

Boys participating in basketball were Don Niedbalski, Ray Jasinski, Bob Garrouste, Ben Stopczynski, Dick McCay, and Chuck Zopf. We also had boys in other athletic fields.

Agriculture work held the special interest of some junior boys. They really know their stuff too.

Never let it be said that the juniors didn't keep right up with the rest of the school when it came to adding names to the Merit and Honor Rolls.

Our big event of the year was our farewell prom to the seniors. We'll miss them next year, and remember them for a long time. It was one of the nicest proms ever given. (At least we think so.)

Leading our class were President Bill McPherson, Vice President Joanne McPherson, Secretary Ruth Ann Smith, and Treasurer Joan Dudeck. Under the patient supervision of two swell sponsors, Miss Broadhurst and Mr. Pfeiffer, and the class right behind pushing us we had a successful year and one that will be long remembered by each and everyone of us.

PROFESSOR, HOW COULD YOU!

"Professor, How Could You!" by Anne Coulter Martens, a very humorous comedy, was presented by the junior class.

The plot of the play was very complicated. Men usually thought Vicky's pranks were cute, but Professor Perry curtly ordered Vicky to call and apologize or drop his class. Vicky sulkily obeyed. At the Perry home she heard that Perry had been offered a deanship, but he must have a wife. His friend John and his family rally round to help. John offers his secretary, a cute thing who can't spell, as an ideal wife. Grandma's candidate is Tootsie Bean, a bit on the plump side, but a whiz at lemon pie.

Vicky, longing for revenge, offers a friend, Valerie, a southern belle who makes a fool out of all the men. Grandpa won't disclose the name of his candidate!

Many humorous scenes follow, but in a whirlwind finish, Grandpa's candidate wins, and the Professor finds a wife in the spitfire Vicky!

The parts were taken by Bill McPherson, John Zdenkus, Mary Milliken, Joan Dudeck, Eileen Snodgrass, Ruth Ann Smith, Micky Wiggins, Ray Jazinski, Jean Marie DuBois, Maurice Tuttle, Loretta Niespodziany, Billy Bingaman, and Philip Clendenen.

Miss Broadhurst directed the production and Mr. Pfeiffer had charge of tickets, stage, and properties.

SPRING

FAIRYLAND

"Spring Fairyland," an operetta, was given in the High School Auditorium on Friday, March 11. The cast included choruses of Fairies, Elves, Bunnies, and children selected from the first four grades. The characters with speaking parts were chosen from grades four, five, and six.

This is the story of a little boy who doesn't believe that the Easter Bunny brings the colored eggs. The Bunnies fill the nests but the eggs are stolen by the naughty Elves. The Fairy Queen and the Bunnies refill the nests before the children return.

The operetta was directed by Miss Dorothy Biro, who was assisted by Miss Broadhurst. Pat Snyder, Elizabeth Modjeska, and Thelma Pierce were student assistants.

SENIOR PLAY

JUNIOR PROM

On March 29 and 30 the Senior Class achieved its final dramatic success. The clever, well-cast play, coached by Mrs. Troeger, showed the results of fine coaching as well as decided natural ability. Pat Schneider acted as assistant director.

Junior Prom is the story of a young girl who gets the measles on the night of the Junior Prom and is quarantined for a week with a pair of lunatics because her brother prints some circulars "on insanity" just to see his name in print.

ATHLETICS

THE AWARDS

Coach Stoneburner adds the "49" softball awards.

SOFTBALL

The team lost few members, but according to form the orange and black will be a tough team to tie much less to beat for next season.

Some of the teams success was due to the fine pitching of Russ Flatt; our regular catcher, Jim Agness; and the two flashy infield boys, Mark Hooton, regular third baseman, and Bud Taelman, shortstop; other members were Ted Taelman, Dave Stickler, Jim Anderson, Ben Stopczynski, Bob Anderson, and Chuck Carbiener.

With the splendid coaching of H. Stoneburner, assisted by O. A. Shaw, New Carlisle Tigers went ahead to take the County Softball Championship. The Tigers suffered only one defeat.

BASKETBALL

Under the capable guidance of our new coach, Harry Stoneburner, the Tigers completed a near average season with a final record of eight wins and twelve losses.

There were five seniors on the team, Russ Flatt, Jim Agness, Bud Taelman, and Mickey Hooton, all veterans from last year, and Russ Cowham, a new member. These boys, along with three juniors, Benny Stopczynski, Chuck Zopf, and Don Niedbalski, and one freshman, Ted Taelman played good ball most of the season, but at times they just didn't seem to have that necessary something.

The tigers showed much power and improvement in their last scheduled game of the season when they trounced one of the leading teams of the county, North Liberty, by a margin of nine points. Furthermore, when the Tigers went into the sectional as our underdog team they succeeded in defeating the county champions; displaying sportsmanship through out the season and although, they captured no titles, they still gave the fans plenty of excitement and entertainment.

O. A. SHAW
COACH

Well, looking at the Track team a little early in the season it looks as though our running Tigers have another good year ahead of them. Eleven boys are back from last year's squad. Russ Flatt, who placed 5th in the state 440 last year, seems to be headed for his best year in track. Jim Agness, who should place first in the broad jumps in all the meets, will be out to better his old mark. Then there is Mark Hooton, a good miler; Chuck Zopf, a sure placer, in the hurdles; and Bill McPherson an up and coming pole-vaulter. Two men return from last year's half mile relay team, they are Jim Agness and Gordon Herzog. The three who return from last year's mile relay team are Russ Flatt, Mark Hooton, and Bob Garroute. All in all the track team coached by Mr. Shaw looks forward to another County Championship.

CLASS HISTORY

As the cover opens on the final chapter ending the story of our achievement during high school, we turn the pages back and once more read it through.

Of the forty-four first graders who started here, only thirteen have remained to the end. The rest of the present senior class joined these, either in the grades or in high school.

We were freshmen in '45, and at our first class meeting we chose Russell Flatt to lead us through the year. The air of suspense was broken by the initiation. It wasn't so bad as they gave us a nice party afterward. We were saddened by the death of Andrew DeGroote, who accidentally shot himself while hunting.

In the fall of '46, having lost some of our greenness, we were the sophisticated sophomores. We began by electing a competent group of officers; they were Carl Shei, Mark Hooton, Julianne Young, and Jean Casaday, as President, V. President, Secretary, and Treasurer respectively. A month before school closed, an automobile accident claimed the life of Carl Shei.

Russell Flatt was elected President in our junior year, Mark Hooton was chosen V-President, Julie Young-Secretary, and Jim Agness-Treasurer. "Footloose", our first attempt at dramatics, was a great success and closed one gap in our financial difficulties. We again increased our treasury by a magazine sale and by selling pop and ice cream at the basketball games. Nine of our juniors boys displayed their strength on the hardwood and our class was well represented in other sports. Our crowning achievement was the Junior-Senior Prom, which was held on May 1, at the Whitcomb Hotel in St. Joseph, Michigan.

Our senior year was a busy one, with Doris Hollister as President, and Bud Taelman as V-President. In Oct. the Halloween Festival was the main activity, with the crowning of Bud Taelman and Arlene Cronkhite as king and queen. Gordon Herzog and Pat Schnieder, two members of the senior publicspeaking class, were appointed as announcers for the W. S. B. T. Broadcasting Station.

Sports in which the senior boys participated were: Basketball-Russell Flatt, Jim Agness, Bud Taelman and Mark Hooton: Track- Jim Agness, Gordon Herzog, Mark Hooton and Russell Flatt: Softball- Russell Flatt, Jim Agness, Bud Taelman and Mark Hooton. The seasons proved to be very victorious.

In January we sponsored a class party, which was held in the school auditorium. Every one reported a good time.

In February one of our members, John Sarber, was selected by Senator Butcher to act as a page for three days at the session of the Indiana Legislation in Indianapolis.

Our Daughters of American Revolution winner for "49" was Henrietta Wroblewski.

We presented our play "Junior Prom", a three act farce-comedy on the evening of March 30. It was well attended and considered by many as one of the most successful and enjoyable plays ever presented.

On May 12, we Seniors "snuck" away for the annual skip day.

We Selected May 15 for our Baccalaureate Service with Reverend Janicki, Preaching the sermon. May 16 was chosen for Class Night.

On the evening of May 18, the night of our commencement, we came to school with lumps in our throats and tears in our eyes, to say good by to New Carlisle High School. Dr. John Holland was our commencement speaker.

As the cover falls, we would like to thank all of the teachers who have been so helpful to us these past years, and also our parents who have guided us through our twelve years of school.

Good friends are Pat Pence and Olga Proud.
They are reserved, dutiful, and never loud.

Lucille B. and Alice G. are the best of pals;
Good-natured and fun-loving are these two gals.

So good and nice is Annabelle Street;
She's well-liked for her personality is sweet.

Our school model is Audrey Mell.
She's nice-looking and dresses well.

Olive Foster is a whiz at short-hand.
From an office job--she'll never get canned.

Pat Schneider is a very likeable lass;
She's a popular girl in our senior class.

Virginia Nickerson is on the Tattler staff;
She's fun to be with for she likes to laugh.

Margaret Brewer is a member of our N. C. Band.
If you want piano accompaniment, she's always on hand.

Albert Zelasko and Ed Corpe are both rather shy,
Knowing the other senior boys--I wonder why.

Thoughts of her boyfriend Liz Morgan will always carry.
I hear that when she graduates the two of them will marry.

So efficient and ambitious is our blond Doris;
She likes to sing and is therefore in Chorus.

Joyce Fox greets everyone with a friendly smile,
That makes you want to stop and talk with her a while.

Whenever you see Roger Barnhart, Russell Cowham is also in sight,
Their girls live in LaPorte And there they journey each night.

Genny Noens is a popular girl who is liked by everyone,
People enjoy being with her because she is so much fun.

Russ Flatt is our boy who stars in all the sports;
He's one of our best athletes, so the coach reports.

Mickey Hooton is a smooth and polished fellow,
All the girls fall for him because he is so mellow.

Wayne Robbins is a well-built man.
He'll do anything to help you if he can.

Johnny Sarber and DeVon Jesswein say they like farming the best.
Someday they'll have their own farms and not much time for rest.

Marilyn Hostetler is so sweet and kind,
When she wants a favor done--no one seems to mind.

Joanne Jedrzejewski is a slim and smiling blond.
Of Journalism classes she is especially fond.

Did you ever hear Herbert Thompson blow his horn?
He sounds like he's played since the day he was born.

Our editor, Jane Szmanda, always is so busy.
If you could follow her, you'd find her pace very dizzy.

Sharon Poland has such pretty clothes
And she loves to dance and talk as everybody knows.

Lilamae is a jolly girl who is smiling all the time.
She really is a swell girl (but of course, that doesn't rhyme.)

And who is our best looking Romeo?
Ask any girl; it's Jimmy Jo.

The one who reigned as our high school queen,
Is peppy, popular, little Arlyne.

Gene Lauver is just a wee bit shy,
But our class will tell you he's a brilliant guy.

Tiny June Swanson is no "GRAVIL GERTY"
With a neat little shape and eyes that are flirty.

We have more school royalty in our last year;
King Bud Taelman is the one we cheer.

CLASS PROPHECY

Dear Classmates,

We just returned home after a six month tour of the United States. We have been working as public health inspectors. The trip was interesting and we went to a lot of exciting places but it seems good to be home again. Several of our school friends are covering the map from coast to coast.

We decided to leave Chicago by airplane. We made sure our luggage was on board. After we had settled back in our seats we hit an air pocket. Our stomachs were turning flip flops when we heard a comforting voice ask us if we would like something. As we looked up we recognize in an instant June Swanson as the hostess. While we were talking a red headed hostess came over to our seats, the name written across her pocket was Henrietta W.. June and Henrietta were taking us on a tour of the plane, we went into the cock pit and who should be sitting in the pilot's seat but Ed Corpe. Sitting in the co-pilot's seat was DeVon Jesswein. After an uneventful trip we made a three point landing in Kansas.

We registered in the one and only hotel. The desk clerk told us that there was a circus in town. We decided to mix a little pleasure in with our business so that night found us at the circus. In one of the side shows whom should we see but JoAnn Jedrzejewski as the fat woman and Olive Foster as a midget. We had a delightful chat and then we went to our hotel to get prepared for the hard days work ahead.

After we boarded the train and had gotten ourselves settled comfortably, when who should come down the aisle but Pat Pence. The three of us were chatting about old times and new styles, when we were thrown from our seats with a jolt. Luckily for us it wasn't a bad accident but by some work of fate Pat broke her leg.

We decided to go to the hospital with her. Doris Hollister greeted us with a heart warming welcome. She was a very excellent nurse and saw to it that Pat had comfort. While we were waiting for Pat to come out of the operating room we heard a familiar voice calling for Doctor Jim Agness. It was Katy Kratz at the switchboard. Walking down the corridors who should we stumble over but Russell Flatt scrubbing the corridors. He always said he would keep things clean.

After the train accident we bought a jeep to take us on our way. As we went through Reno, Nevada who should we see but Donnie Haag. She was down there on a vacation. She is a millionaire, you know.

We had heard about public conditions in California so we headed the jeep California bound. By the time we reached San Francisco we had a little motor trouble, we went to the first car dealer we came to. When we walked inside who should be sitting behind a desk with his feet propped up but Roger Barnhart. He greeted us with a heartwarming smile and invited us to have lunch with him. Of course we accepted. We went into this exclusive restaurant and were greeted by the owner Gene Lauver. After we were seated a young lady asked us if we wanted our pictures painted. As soon as we turned around we knew in an instant Julie Young had reached her goal.

Jean and I had always wanted to visit a movie studio and we would never have a better chance so why not take it? While we were going through the gate a young, distinguished actor bumped into us. After we had picked ourselves up we looked at the young man. Mark Hooten was a stand-in for Peter Lawford. Naturally Mark just had to show us some of Hollywood's night life. We just had to have our hair done for the evening, so we went to a beauty salon and requested that our work be done by the owner Virginia Nickerson.

That evening when Mark picked us up, who should be with him but our old friend Gordy Herzog. The night club had a Mexican atmosphere. The band leader's name was Herb Thompson and his base fiddler was Elizabeth Morgan. The floor show was on when we went in and to our amazement Arlyne Cronkhite was the distinguished dancer.

The next morning found us on our way to Texas. We were in the heart of the state when we ran out of gas. We walked to the nearest ranch and inquired about getting some gas. Wayne Robbins, the owner, was only too glad to help.

We got our gas and went on our way. We went to the Gulf of Mexico and caught a ship for Cuba. We were asked to dine with the captain and his wife. When we went to dinner we were greeted by Lois Pagel, she was the captain's wife. After dinner we wanted to tell the cook what a wonderful meal we had. Lois took us to the kitchen and we found Bud Taelman up to his neck in dish water. Of course the meal had to be good if Bud was the chief cook and bottle washer.

In Cuba we looked around the town and found a dime store just like one in the United States. We went inside to look around and heard someone banging away on the piano. In the back of the store Margaret Brewer was playing the piano.

On the ship back to the states, there was a band on board. Singing in this band were Joyce Fox and Joyce Shoue, billed as the Joyce Sisters.

Driving through Florida, we stopped over night at a fashionable motel. The owner was Annabelle Street. The next day Annabelle took us a couple of miles down the road to a pretty white farm house. Johnny Sarber had finally become a dairy farmer.

When we went through Georgia, we had a little accident with a red convertible. The driver of the other car got out and it was none other than Jane Szmanda. She sold automobile accident insurance to help make ends meet, as her husband, Glen Robinson left her seven years ago. Her daughter Jannie was home watching the four little Robinsons.

We were traveling through South Carolina, investigating public health conditions, when we decided to stay and eat. We pulled up to a beautiful restaurant. After we were made comfortable, we lost ourselves in the beautiful surroundings. A waitress asked us in a pleasant voice, what we would like. We turned toward the voice and who should be standing there looking so sweet and neat, but Louise Tolmen. After a good home cooked meal we turned the jeep's nose towards Connecticut. When we got to Yale University we heard that Joe Charles, President of the United States, and Albert Zelasko, Vice-President, were giving a speech that night. We talked for quite a while when Joe said he wanted to introduce us to the Dean and a Professor. We got the surprise of our life when Russell Cowham and Pat Schneider were introduced as the Dean and Professor respectively. We had a big get-together and then it was time to start through other states.

Walking down Fifth Avenue in New York, we decided to look at some furs. Some models came out and showed us the latest styles in mink. There was one white mink cape we thought exceedingly beautiful and we called the model over. Were we ever amazed when the model turned out to be Audrey Mell. After the show was over, Audrey took us to the designing room. We stopped by one of the desks and when the girl looked up, to our surprise it was Olga Proud. They took us through the store, from front to back. After spending an entertaining time with them, we nosed our jeep back home to Chicago.

When we recuperated a bit, we decided to take in a wrestling match. We were to see lady wrestlers and a lady referee. They had the most inhuman names on the posters, so we really expected a mean match. You would never guess whom the wrestlers were. We won't keep you in suspense any longer. Thelma Fetterer and Genny Noens were the wrestlers, with Lilamae Sexton as the referee.

The next night we went to the Ice Capades. We bought our tickets at the ticket box from a charming young lady who knew us at once. She was Marilyn Hostetler. She said she would meet us back stage after the show. The star of the show was a lovely little blonde. It was Alice Gadacz. After the show, Marilyn and Alice took us backstage where we met Lucille Bladeski. She was Alice's right hand girl. After a pleasant evening we started home. As we were driving along we saw two cars parked a little off the highway. A state cop was standing there trying to get the difficulty straightened out. Never will you guess who the cop was. He was Mrs. Stutsman and the woman driver of one of the cars was Mrs. Troeger. Of course we just had to stop and see what it was all about. The four of us started talking about the good old school days and Mr. Stutsman, of all things, forgot to give Mrs. Troeger a ticket. Well classmates that is the happy ending of our trip. It just goes to show you all of the old friends you will meet all over the United States.

Always,
Jean and Sharon

APOLOGIES TO THE POETS

BOOKS

Books of learning--unused on a shelf
are a luxury,
But worn, torn books with finger prints,
Are the steps to success-used by you and me.

Life gets tedious carrying books,
We'd like to say "Fiddle-Dee-Dee."
But think if it weren't for pencils and books,
How awful dumb we would be.

COMMERCE

Learning comes from teachings-
Learned from reading books.
Bookkeeping and Accounting, and those
Puzzling shorthand hooks.

HOME ECONOMICS

Learning to can, and to cook, and to sew;
Is the prospect of all concerned.
The chance will soon come to prove to their husbands
Just all that they really have learned.

PHYSICAL EDUCATION

Physical Ed keeps you in trim,
Never a real heavy, but a fancy slim.
You roll, bounce, play at things,
And a beautiful shape--it brings.

SCIENCE

Science is an inspiration born in the hearts of men,
Urging them up to soaring heights, letting them down again.
Urging them on to achievement, driving them day by day,
Giving them courage to win some prize, fighting all the way.

MUSIC DEPARTMENT

The echo of voices and tooting of horns,
From the music department you'll hear.
Choruses and Band are the talented ones
Whose art is so sweet to the ear.

LATIN

Boyabus Kissibus Girlabusorum,
Gulabus Likeabus Wants Someorum
Papabus Hearabus Kissabusorum
Kickabus Narabus Outa the Dcrrum.
Darkabus Night, No lightabusorum,
Climbabus gatepost, Breechibus torum.

AGRICULTURE

The city life that some folks crave,
Does not appeal to me.
I'd rather be out on the farm,
Where life is full and free.

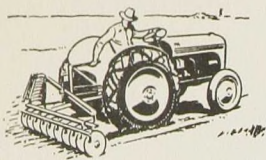

No, you can have your city.
That life would never do.
For me, a content happy farm life.
That's what I crave, don't you?

TO THE TEACHERS

Teachers, we shall miss you,	For four years Mrs. Troeger helps
When our school days are o'er;	To climb life's rugged path;
Miss the kind and guiding hands.	Where other friends have failed us,
That were always there of yore.	She stayed until the last.

And now the time draws nearer
When we must say good-bye;
Our good times but a memory
Of days in New Carlisle High.
